An Open Letter to a Hit-and-Run Driver

Well, you got away with it. So far, anyway. Of course you're still a bit nervous. You are startled by doorbells; your palm sweats when you pick up the morning paper; your mouth gets dry when a stranger seems to stare at you. For there is just a possibility that some chance passer-by saw you. But your pulse is beginning to behave again. Each passing day brings added safety.

If it will make you feel any better, you may never be caught. But, my craven fellow, you'll never escape yourself. You'll never escape the shame of having killed a child and run away. You'll never escape the aching, burning memory that, faced with the test, you preferred cowardice to courage.

You will live the rest of your days bluffing yourself into believing that you didn't have time to think (although life's crises are not scheduled for men's convenience.) that anybody else would have done the same thing (although you don't dare tell anybody else;) and that it wasn't murder, but just an accident (as though people hide themselves after accidents.) The days will be trying, but not so bad compared with the nights, when you lie awake with your conscience and when, having fallen asleep at last, dreams steal into your tired brain to reenact that scene of secret shame. Yes, the nights will be hard.

A thousand times you will wish to release that pent-up shame, to scream: "I killed a child and ran away!" It would make you feel better, but you won't do it.

Listen: You didn't get away with a thing! And you know it!

Gifts Showered On Oat Meal Fed Quins

The "famous five,' the Dione babies are constantly receiving gifts. This Christmas they received hundreds of gifts, as usual, but for them "Christmas" continues throughout the year. They receive many mechanical toys which are usually stored away until the Quins are older.

One of the most unusual gifts which the world's sweethearts have received since their birth was a gift sent from Ireland, five bundles of real Irish shamrocks. An unusual "for life" gift was a pledge by an association to keep the Quintuplets provided with shoes as long as they live. A large doll house completely furnished was sent from Iowa and among other gifts there have been sets of dishes, a chest of silverware, a player piano, five pairs of snowshoes, bonnets, a Great Dane watch dog, bathrobes and numerous books. The books favored by the Quins advisers are those with washable covers, which can be sterilized frequently.

These gifts are all individual tributes to the world's most famous babies, five living examples of what child hygiene can do when given a chance.

Food, of course, has been very important in the development of these youngsters whose total weight at birth was a little over ten pounds. Daily their cereal is ouatmel, which is rich in Vitamin B for keeping fit. Medical authorities and food editors recognize Vitamin B as Nature's best defense against those childhood dangers, nervousness, constipation and poor appetite due to lack of that vitamin in the diet. And, too, oatmeal with milk is rich in muscle-building protein, body-building minerals and energy-making carbohydrates.

And so every day the famous Dionne Quins have Quadker Oats. And every year an admiring world showers on them in tribute to their good health.

ATTENTION!

After May 1st, we will be located next door to the C. F. Green Grocery.

1937 Ford V-8

● If you think that "all low-price cars cost about the same" — forget it! They don't.

Ford makes a car — a 60-horsepower economy Ford V-8 — that sells from 30 to 60 dollars under the prices asked for any other car of comparable size. The lowest Ford prices in years!

Check delivered prices in your town and see for yourself.

● Of course, first cost doesn't prove "low cost" — you must consider operating cost also.

The "60" has definitely established itself as the most economical car in Ford history. Ford cars have been famous for economy for 34 years, so that means something!

Owners who have driven it thousands of miles report that the Ford "60" averages between 22 and 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

You can prove those figures — on the open road — in a car provided by the nearest Ford dealer.

● When you've finished your personal check-up, ask yourself:

"Do I want to save money the day I buy my car and every mile I drive it?"

"Do I want a safe, roomy, comfortable car of advanced design — created from the finest materials to the highest precision standards?"

There's only one answer, of course — the 1937 Ford V-8.

Ford V-8 Prices Begin at $529 at Dearborn Factory. Transportation charges, State and Federal taxes extra

This price is for the 60-horsepower Coupe equipped with front and rear bumpers, spare tire, horn, windshield wiper, sun visor, glove compartment, and ash tray.

$25 A MONTH, after usual down-payment, buys any Ford V-8 Car, from any Ford dealer, anywhere in the U. S. — through Authorized Ford Finance Plans of Universal Credit Co.

WATER RESOURCES OF COUNTY CATALOGED

A publication recording wells, drillers' logs, water analyses, and map showing location of wells of Milam County is in the hands of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce and County Judge Jeff T. Kemp.

The Board of Water Engineers of Austin, released the mimeographed form. Information for this publication was secured under the direction of a Cameron man, W. I. Clark, Jr., geologist, as project superintendent, with funds for the project being allocated by the Austin office of the Works Progress Administraton.

The field work in Milam county was started on March 10, 1936. The project was shut down on June 30, was started again on July 27, and was completed on August 31, 1936.

This project was part of the statewide inventory of water wells. At present ground water in Milam County is used chiefly to supply city water systems and for domestic and stock uses. This ground water study is the initial step in an investigation whch will determine the extent to which irrigation projects may be developed in Milam County if droughts force irrigation, and the extent to which industry may be expanded. Two of the best water-bearing sands in the State of Texas, the Carizo and Simsboro sands, pass through Milam County.

This information released on the water wells of Milam County contains 58 pages, giving the records of 292 wells and 26 springs, 24 drillers' well logs, 62 hole logs, and the analysis of 307 water samples. The locations of all wells, springs and test holes listed in the release are shown on a map in the back of the release.

"Mr. Clark deserves credit for his work and for the many extra hours he spent on the project," it was stated by Samuel F. Turner, associate hydraulic engineer of the U. S. Geological Survey.

Mr. Clark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Clark of this city. At present he is employed with the engineerng division of the Southern Pacific railway with headquarters in Houston.

NOTES ON TRANSFER OF SCHOOL PUPILS

Equal educational opportunity for boys and girls regardless of residential location has long been the ideal of educators and the hope of those parents whose children are denied the better educational opportunities.

The State Legislature has provided an increasing amount of money each year as an equalization fund to guarantee to the rural child an education equal to that of his city brother. This money is paid out by the state in the form of teacher salary aid, purchase of certain equipment, High School tuition, and transportation costs.

The increasing ambition of parents for their children and the awakening of children to their greater opportunity has resulted in a constant overtaxing of the equalization fund set aside by the state.

Certain communities have preferred to handle their own educational problems. The state readily cooperaes with such communities by refusing to pay the tuition of those pupils whose grade is taught in the home district school.

Not only does the state protect the home school, but it penalizes the school of better grade, which permits the pupils to attend school free. If the Cameron school should permit a boy whose grade is taught in the home district, to come to the Cameron grammar or high school free, the state would then deduct from the total amount due Cameron the amount of the tuition which should have been collected from the pupil who was permitted to attend the Cameron school free. Example:

The annual cost of high school tuition in Cameron for one pupil is $67.50 The total tuition cost to the state for rural pupils attending Cameron is approximately $9000. If one pupil is permitted to attend free, the state would deduct $67.50 and pay only $8,932.50 thereby causing the Cameron School in reality to lose $135 for each such free pupil.

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, rundown condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated.

Cardui, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

THE WASHINGTON STAGE

Reviewed By
W. R. POAGE
OUR CONGRESSMAN

The past week has been characterized by more activity on the part of the House than has heretofore been exhibited at any time this session. The most important single piece of legislation was the second Sumners Bill permitting the Attorney General to intervene in any litigation in the lower Federal Courts where the constitutionality of legislation is involved and to obtain direct review by the Supreme Court of any lower court decision against the validity of a Federal statute, regardless of whether the United States is a party to the original action or not. This will make it impossible for two private individuals or corporations to agree between themselves for one to use the other and then for both of them to join in urging the Court to hold any Act of Congress involved in the litigation unconstitutional. It should also go a long way toward speeding up decisions on these questions. In the past private interests could institute such suits and deliberately take as much time as possible to get them decided. Then with all the parties before the Court urging delay and finally agreeing that the Act involved was unconstitutional, it often happened that the government suffered a long drawn out period of uncertainty and finally saw an Act held unconstitutional without ever having a chance to say a word. I think the government should have a right and it should be the duty of its legal staff to present the arguments in favor of the constitutionality of an Act of Congress whenever anyone attacks it. This will be possible under this bill if passed by the Senate. The bill carries out what seems to me to be two of the most important features of the Presidents Court Reform Program. It passed the house by a large majority. I voted for it.

* * *

It has been reported for some time that the Farm Tenant or Home Ownership Bill was dead but I was very much gratified this week when the House Committee on Agriculture gave a favorable report to a bill authorizing $50,000,000 per year for the next five years to be loaned to tenant farmers upon the basis of recommendations from county committees for the purchase of homes. The loans will carry three per cent interest and will run for thirty years. This phase of the bill differs sharply from the Administration Plan which would have had the Government purchase the land and then sell it to "clients" to be paid for over a 40 year period while the government retained title. While I had hoped that the interest rate might be even lower than 3 per cent this is rather liberal and I think the bill is much better than any Resettlement, Relief "Client" system of control. I repeat that the government should help our people to help themselves become real home-owners—not wards of the government. Other provisions of the bill provide for an expenditure of $150,000,000 during the next two years for rehadilitation loans to farmers and for $70,000,000 to be spent over the next four years for outright purchase of sub-marginal lands by the government. The bill will probably come before the House for a vote this week.

* * *

On last Thursday the House had a most heated argument on two investigating resolutions. I voted for both resolutions but both were finally defeated. The first was a proposal to investigate Un-American activities of certain foreign groups now organizing in the United States and pledging our citizens to participate in European wars. I think these organizations should be exposed and prohibited. They are a most likely means of involving this nation in foreign war and certainly can not be of any value to America. They should be investigated but the House thought otherwise.

* * *

The other resolution was by Representative Dies of Texas and asked for an investigation of the "sit-down" strikers. Very few will openly defend these lawless methods which are becoming so common and which are doing so mich to break down the high regard that organized labor has earned by a long record of sound, humane and honorable policies. At the same time these sit-down strikers are disrupting our industrial recovery and are making our laws a joke. I think it is time for Congress to recognize the situation instead of sticking our heads in the sand. However, a great majority of the Democrats from industrial states just don't want to do anything about it. Therefore this resolution was also killed.

* * *

On the next day the House refused to take up and consider the Mitchell anti-lynching bill. This bill which was introduced by the only negro member of Congress is an attempt to penalize the communities in which lynchings occur. I certainly would not condone the practice of lynching but I think that our Southern people have been doing a rather good job of eliminating it for themselves. The number of lynchings has dropped during the past fifty years from 2.60 per million of population to only .03. In other words fifty years ago there were 87 times as many lynchings in proportion to population as now. I do not think that the Northern States can show any such record in regard to kidnaping, gang murders, etc., and I do not think in view of such a splendid record of improvement that the Federal government should try to interfere with local law enforcement in the Southern states. However, we were only able to block this bill with the help of certain Northern representatives who expect to bring up the more stringent Gavagan Bill possibly this coming week.

The President has again held out hope to the Brazos River District and has again failed to give us any clear cut authority to get started. This time he has asked the Reclamation Department to check the estimates of the Army Engineers with a view of determining whether the Army estimates which are two and a half million dollars more than the District's estimate of the cost of building the first dam can not be reduced. I feel hopeful that they may agree that we can build modern and less expensive type of dam than that recommended by the Army but in the mean time more delay will result.

Cameron's Advertising Rates too LOW .....

Newspaper advertising rates in Cameron are the lowest in Texas.

That statement will not readily be understood. To know the truth of Cameron's newspaper situation one must be familiar with what constitutes the basis of advertising rate making.

Rates are based on circulation, intensity of distribution plus a nationally established scale of publicity value.

What a newspaper charges the merchant for space should never be based on salesmanship, price cutting, false claims, economic necessity or favoritism. Every dollar invested in advertising space, to get returns, must follow the correct trend in values.

When you buy advertising space you buy circulation. You do not buy the editorial policy of the paper, nor are you concerned about whether you like the publisher. If you want to be friendly with your business, place your space where the buyers read it.

Cameron newspapers occupy a place in Texas journalism few publications enjoy.

Increased circulation and increased reader interest make it inevitable that advertising rates must be increased.

Every commodity you buy has advanced . . . in some cases, doubled. The same increases occur to newspapers. Labor, paper and all supplies are higher. But, greater number of readers, is the true basis on which increases in rates MUST BE MADE.

Resolutions

To John Watson, President of the Milam County Bar Association:

The undersigned committee apointed at the bar meeting on the 23rd, of February 1937, to present appropriate resolution expressing the feelings of the members of this bar at the death of Honorable James K. Freeman, which occurred on the 23rd, of February, respectfully sumbit the following:

J. K. Freeman was born near Tupelo, Mississippi, November 18, 1861, and came to Milam County when a young man and taught school a short while. Later he served as Justice of the Peace in Cameron, and studied law, was admitted to the bar and was elected County Attorney and after four years retired, without seeking re-election. He then engaged in the general practice of law, and rose to distinction in his profession. He enjoyed a large and lucrative practice, and for years was employed in almost all prominent criminal and civil cases in Milam County. His intuitive knowledge of psychology and metaphysics was of inestimable value to him in selecting juries and examining witnesses in the trial of cases.

He did not have the advantages of a university education and training, but was endowed with a bright and inquiring intellect, and was an extensive reader and student of politicial and state affairs, and had no superior in Central Texas in such matters. Mr. Freeman engaged in the active duties of his profession and business affairs to the date of his death.

1. RESOLVED: That it is the sense of the members of the bar of Milam County, of which, Mr. Freeman was a member, until his passing, that the profession of the law has sustained a deep and lasting loss in his death, and the announcement of his sudden death forcibly reminds us that we, too, must soon pass away, and calls forth our profoundest sympathies for the relatives of the deceased, whose devotion to his professional an civic duties to his county and state endeared him to all patriotic and liberty loving citizens, who knew him. As a lawyer he was laborious and careful in the preparations of his case; as an advocate he never soared to impassioned eloquence, or attempted to secure a verdict from the jury, or judgment of the court by appealing to the heart or emotions, but addressed himself to the understanding and conscience.

2. RESOLVED: That we sympathize deeply with the relatives and friends of the deceased, and share with him their sorrow.

3. RESOLVED: That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this court, and that a copy be furnished the family of the deceased, and to each of the local newspapers of this city.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. WALLACE,
Chairman.
W. A. MORRISON,
M. G. COX.

At The THEATRE

By GEO. WINCHELLE

Marlene Dietrich teams with Chas. Boyer in bringing "The Garden of Allah" to the screen of the Cameron Theatre April 22 and 23. It is an all technicolor picture, now becoming so popular with theatre patrons of America. The story is different. Because of its religious characteristic the film will blast you out of your seat, especially in view of its unhappy ending, when both are cheated of their love. Dietrich as Domini Enfilden in Robert Hitchens' famous desert love story, leaves her home near an European capital to embark on a new life. She goes to Algeria and there her path crosses that of Boris Androvsky who in reality is Brother Antonie, an escaped monk from a Trappist Monastary. It is a moving love drama of such tremendous appeal you cannot ever forget it. In the end Boris declares his love for Domini but conscious of his sin goes back to the gates of the Monastary where they part forever.

* * *

"Penrod and Sam" is a different sort of film. True its mainly about Kids but this is vastly different, starts out with the refreshing humor and pathos of husky boy life and ends up with about as much dramatics as one would want to see. The story is about boys who become in the end Junior G-Men and assist in the capture of criminals. The story is by Booth Tarkington and who could write it better? If you want to see something delightfully different go to the Cameron Theatre Saturday, April 24th, matinee and night.

* * *

The exceptional April program at the Cameron Theatre reaches a colorful and interesting climax Sunday and Monday, April 25 and 26 when three of the great stars of the screen team up in "The Last of Mrs. Cheney". Think of seeing Wm. Powell, Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery in one picture. Its the kind of film one sees not often. It has a London background and involves a Mrs. Cheney, a wealthy Australian widow whose charm and beauty are irreistible with a background of English culture and drama, this great picture develops. Full of fun and only such merit as one may expect from Powell and Crawford. The picture is for two days at the Cameron Theatre April 25 and 26.

* * *

A series of new adventure pictures starring Barton MacLane and Glenda Farrell are now being made by Warner Brothers. The first of these pictures come to the screen of the Cameron Theatre April 27th. "Smart Blonde." Its a gang picture with Farrell playing the part of an inquiring newspaper reporter and MacLane playing the part of an ace Detective Lieutenant. Stories of mystery and adventure make up more than half the present day screen interest. You should find in this picture an evening of swell entertainment.

* * *

A moving modern story of heart throbs in the canyons of a great city is that of "Woman of Glamour." And Melvyn Douglas takes you for another whirlwind trip through the thick of genuis. With him is Virginia Bruce. Here's how it begins. Douglas playing the part of Dick Stark, artist, breaks up a party in his pent house and is speeding away in drunken stupor and is stopped by a blowout. Emptying a flask he throws it and almost hits Gloria Hudson who also is fleeing from a party. This is the sort of atmosphere that creates a love story and the climb back to better things makes this a clean and lovable drama. You will be able to see it for one day only April 28th at the Cameron Theatre.

* * *

"Internes Can't Take Money," and besides its Joel McCrea and Barbara Stanwyck playing the leading roles. This column predicts this will be one of the great pictures of the month on the screen of the Cameron Theatre. Its the daring inside story of America's minute men in white; trouble shooters along the border lines of life and death. It is a moving story of a young interne in a hospital who becomes involved with gansters, one of whose lives is saved by his surgery. Into his life comes a woman who also has lived in the shadows. A kidnapped baby and mobster intrigue together with ideals of a great profession maintained at all costs, form the background of this amazing story. Its terrific and pulse pounding and it runs for two days at the Cameron Theatre April 29 and 30.
